

HW6 Hint 2

The secret to happiness here is to realize that when `play` calls itself recursively, it must use the result of the recursion to construct the tree that it will return. That's true regardless of what the recursive call returns and regardless of whether the computer got the right answer!